6th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A leper came to Jesus and kneeling down begged him and said,
"If you wish, you can make me clean." Moved with pity, he stretched out his hand, touched him, and said to him,
"I do will it. Be made clean." - Mk 1:40-41

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

"Spread love everywhere you go: first of all in your own house. Give love to your children, to your wife or husband, to a next door neighbor... Let no one ever come to you without leaving better and happier. Be the living expression of God's kindness; kindness in your face, kindness in your eyes, kindness in your smile, kindness in your warm greeting."

Inspiration for the Week

by Rev. Mark Suslenko

Everybody has a place at the table, and nobody deserves to feel inferior, unworthy, unwanted, or marginalized. It is not part of God's vision. Jesus came to heal, make things whole, set things right, and restore relationships. No one is to feel unwelcome or alienated from the community. Whether we like it or not, this message is at the core of the Gospel. It makes a lot of sense when you think about it. Perhaps this is why people kept coming from everywhere to listen to Jesus speak and to be in his presence. He made perfect sense. Most of us have no issue buying into this vision. We run into trouble, however, when we fall into the trap of privilege and power. We diverge from God's vision when the powerful begin to control who is entitled to wholeness and inclusion, and greed becomes a driving force. Prejudice and entitlement have no place in the kingdom of God, and even the most needy and hurting among us are worthy of the compassion Jesus desires to offer. There are no easy solutions to the world's dilemmas. But one thing is for certain, no one can be singled out, excluded or mistreated. Everyone matters.

Ash Wednesday Service Schedule

To celebrate Ash Wednesday on Feb. 17, SS. Isidore and Maria Parish will hold Liturgy of the Word with Ashes at St. Paul Church as follows:

7:30 a.m. 12:15 p.m. 3:30 p.m. 6 p.m.

Online registration for parish Ash Wednesday services is required. Registration begins on Mon., Feb. 1 on the parish the parish website.

Standard COVID-19 social distancing protocols will be in place, and include the sprinkling of ashes on the heads of those in attendance, rather than the traditional forehead cross of ashes. Though different from our custom, it is an ancient rite that symbolizes the sprinkling of dirt on one's coffin at burial.

Registration is now underway on the parish website: isidoreandmaria.org.

Please note that these services will not be livestreamed.

Thank You to our sponsors

SS. Isidore and Maria Parish sincerely thanks the sponsors whose generosity makes our bulletin possible.

The Church, as a voice of the Gospel, proclaims the sacredness of all human life. Everyone created by God is fashioned in God's image and has Divine DNA at the center of their soul. God never leaves what God creates but always remains intimately bound to what he has given form. Everyone has a place and because they have received the gift of Divine Blessing, nobody deserves to feel inferior, unworthy, unwanted, unclean or marginalized. Even the most broken of souls has a place. We, the Body of Christ, have the privilege and responsibility to give voice to the voiceless. The cries of the little one in his or her mother's womb are just as sacred as the cries of one who is homeless and hungry. The migrant deserves our attention as much as the forgotten elderly and even the prisoner, with a heart hardened by anger and resentment, deserves respect and dignity.

The Gospel of Life is often hard to swallow, and we would rather keep those we consider unclean, different or unfixable in a place by themselves. It is hard to see them with us, but they deserve to be. There is far too much violence in this world and the result of that violence is the assault on human life. Many are forced to leave the place they call home in search of safer ground, finding few if any along the way who will help them. How different today's Gospel story would be if Jesus gave in to what was politically correct at that time. The leper would have been turned away and a soul, already beaten down by disease and fear, would have experienced an even deeper wound. Jesus wouldn't have captured much attention from anyone, nor would he have mirrored the Father's compassion and love.

Where do we stand with all of this? Do we at least understand that God's vision is often in conflict with the vision put forth in our world and even the one we advance ourselves? There is no doubt that it is incredibly challenging to find a place for everyone at the table. This challenge is compounded when the systems of operation and structure that are so ingrained in us affirm power and privilege rather than inclusivity and justice. Everything really goes askew when the powerful begin to control who is entitled to wholeness and inclusion, and greed becomes a driving force. Prejudice and entitlement raise their ugly heads and we find ourselves with quite a mess. It's time to admit that things have been a mess for a very long time. The mess needs to be healed, not by erasing it but by allowing God to touch it and make it whole. We need to bring God back to the center of life where God belongs. There are no easy solutions to the world's dilemmas. But, knowing that wholeness, healing, and dignity are worthy pursuits, we can more confidently labor to achieve God's vision.

Discovering Life Lessons through BINGO!

by Annie Berger, parishioner

"BINGO!" shouted a frail elderly woman nestled in the comfort of her wheelchair. She read aloud her unique combination that earned her the twenty-five cent prize: "B2, I19, N34, G60, O73!"

My Saturday routine consisted of playing BINGO with the residents of Salmon Brook Nursing Home, and it all began with what I thought would be a one-time service event.

"Gross, it smells like pee in here." I walked through the door of the nursing home; hands stuffed in my sweatshirt pockets. My mom picked up the role as "Youth Minister" at our church, which entailed experimenting with countless community outreach programs. With the lack of interest from other teenagers, my sister and I accompanied her. We were directed down the hall to the large dining room, where we were greeted by thirty residents who sat in front of their BINGO cards eagerly waiting for the game to begin. We were told to pair up with a resident. I briefly scanned the room, to which my eyes focused on a woman with a pale face, soft dark eyes, and a wide grin. I sat down next to her, introduced myself, and conversation began to flow.

I soon learned that her name was AnnRita. As the game began we continued our conversation pausing every few seconds to hear the next number. Green chips sat on the table. She fumbled them in her hands, and utilized them whenever a number she had was called. These chips were much more than objects; the green represented her Irish heritage.

The amount of information I found out about AnnRita the first day we met certainly made up for the fact that she didn't win a game. From learning about her favorite candy being Werther's Caramels or the family that she adored; a picture of the complete person began to emerge. If AnnRita were to have an ideal BINGO card I would envision this:

B4 – symbolizing her four children. AnnRita often boasted about her children: three boys and one girl.

I25 – the memories flooded back to July of 1925, the year she was born.

N – free space, the ability to fill our lives with whatever passions and desires we have.

G59 – the number of beads on a rosary. AnnRita proudly wore her faith for all to see, always carrying red rosary beads and her prayer book.

O61 – the number of years she was married to her husband, Weldon.

Nobody's life is perfect; we all have faults. AnnRita showed me how to take those faults and turn them into lessons to grow from. She understood failure, and recognized what hard work can accomplish. She told me to never quit fighting for my dreams. As I head into the next recognized what hard work can accomplish. She told me to never quit fighting for my dreams. As I head into the next steps in my life, I am looking forward to continue establishing those BINGO numbers that connect to form my own story. Although it may take time with some success and failure, I am excited to see what the journey will look like.

It is possible that my B could be B3, representing my three siblings or the year that I was born (2003). I believe my I will lie somewhere in the twenties, such as I24, where I aspire to begin my career as an occupational therapist. I will keep N as my free space like AnnRita did for all the unknowns and adventures to come. I picture my G as G50, celebrating my 50th wedding anniversary surrounded by children and grandchildren. Sixty-six has always been my lucky number, so it's only fitting that O66 would fulfill my O column.

Although these numbers may fluctuate throughout the years, I am eager to find my way and someday look back on my life with no regrets and yell BINGO!
