Inspiration for the Week

by Rev. Mark Suslenko

Everyone wants to experience peace. When we look to the world to provide this, we can easily get disappointed. We associate peace with an absence of war and conflict, good relationships between neighbors and coworkers, the achievement of success, and even the absence of noise! While all of these are worthy endeavors, pursuing them exclusively as a path to experiencing peace sets us up for failure. It will never be found when we look for peace outside of ourselves. True and lasting peace comes from within. It is not something we can produce or receive from others. Peace is discovered when we experience inner wholeness and harmony. It is born of a sense of connectedness with a God who is larger and more significant than ourselves, gifting us with His presence. It is the only peace offered by the Risen Christ that can settle our hearts and calm our fears. Regardless of the degree of turmoil around us, this sense of completeness that Jesus gives anchors our boats and prevents us from sinking.

Expansion in the Ministry of Our Parish

Pastoral Council by Father Mark Suslenko, Pastor

Dear Parishioners:

I want to take this opportunity to tell you about an expansion in the ministry of our Parish Pastoral Council. As you know, the Pastoral Council oversees our parish's pastoral and spiritual needs. To that end, I am happy to announce that each member of the Pastoral Council will be assigned to lead a particular parish ministry.

Learn more about what this means in Father Mark's full letter, available on our website: isidoreandmaria.org/pastormay2022

Would you like to sing for Pentecost?

Sunday Reflection — The Ascension of the Lord

A Crisis of Identity by Rev. Mark Suslenko

It's all out of control. Inflation, the economy, violence, oppression, greed, morality, and tensions are all escalating as people scurry about for a sense of stability and well-being. Power seems to win the game, and self-aggrandizement appears to be the order of the day. Love gets watered down to tolerance and accepting whomever and whatever is presented. The axis around which meaning and truth are found is twisted. Human beings appear to be engaged in an identity crisis of vast proportion, not sure whether standard, acceptable and appropriate protocols any longer exist. We are lost. When one nation feels entitled to the goods of another and feels justified using any means possible to obtain them, we are in trouble.

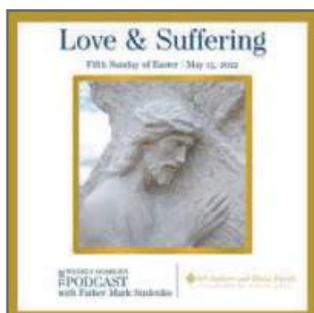

While this is happening most explicitly in Ukraine, there are other parts of the world where greed, exploitation, and violence are regular occurrences. Even in the United States, violent carjacking and general theft are becoming commonplace, and a blatant disregard for human life seems more evident. We often act as if our journey of life is simply a random occurrence, that we are here on this planet for no known reason and accountable to no one. Norms and protocols, appearing to cater to personal preferences, become a matter of what protects each other's rights and space. Benchmarks and standards for growing, maturing, perfecting, and refining human thought and behavior no longer exist.

The world needs the good news of the Ascension of Jesus Christ. Pope Francis states, "The Ascension does not point to Jesus' absence, but tells us that he is alive in our midst in a new way. He is now in the Lordship of God, present in every space and time, close to each one of us." If God is present in every space and time, then he is actively involved in what is happening in our lives. He works through both the positive and negative experiences we encounter, bringing us to a renewed and more focused place. The Ascension allows us to see this truth about ourselves, enlightening our hearts. Christ, who was most perfectly, vividly, and brilliantly transfigured before the very eyes of the disciples will be our destiny.

Faith brings resolution to humanity's identity crisis. Faith corrects our misunderstandings of love. Faith seeks non-violent solutions to humanity's many conflicts. Faith removes our self-

PODCAST: Love & Suffering

"Anyone who has loved unconditionally and loved with a devoted heart, and found that love lost, found that love rejected, knows that love comes with a companion. That companion is suffering." ~ Father Mark

Father Mark explores the relationship between "love" and "suffering" on his latest podcast, "Love & Suffering." It's an insightful homily that focuses on the human tendency to avoid suffering, even going so far as to avoid love, whose companion on the journey is often suffering. Visit isidoreandmaria.org/podcasts to listen.

focus and deepens our vision. Faith provides the benchmarks we need to grow and mature properly. Faith offers the centering axis we need to order our lives. And only faith can give us real hope. Perhaps the cause of humanity's identity crisis is nothing other than an absence of faith. How can we believe that God takes a genuine interest in our lives if we do not believe in God in the first place?

The answer to what plagues us is not easily found. However, before we can even think of repairing and constructing, we need to have solid plans and build a secure foundation. The Ascension reminds us of who God is, who we are, and who we are meant to be. All we have to do is believe in what God promises. In this way, we acquire our anchor for proper self-knowledge and a benchmark for judging actions.

When people are so angry, hurting, displaced, confused, and broken, it is hard to convince them that there is a better way. The rise in addiction and mental health issues indicates social structures that are failing. When the inability of society to care for an unwanted child justifies the right to take that child in its mother's womb, something is incredibly wrong. Only faith tells us, without doubt, who we are. Any decisions made without that secure and foundational reference point are subject to serious error. There is no doubt that our lives can become unsettled and empty. When we rely too much on the things of this world to please us, we can easily lose our excitement, enthusiasm, wonder, and joy. No worldly thing, no matter how great, can satisfy the longing of a human heart. Only God does that.

Imagine how different life would be if everyone approached each moment as a creative opportunity to see what God will do. When encountered with faith, even darkness has great potential to become light. The neighbor who gets under our skin, the demanding coworker we see every day, the person at the supermarket who is rude to us, the elderly person we met on our daily walk who seemed so disheveled, the perfect sunrise that greeted us in the morning, and the wonderful aroma and taste of our first cup of coffee can all be used by God to awaken us, humble us, and bring us to a heightened sense of his presence.

If people understood the power of faith, they would better understand who they are and where they are going. It would be harder to take something that doesn't belong to us, strike out in vengeful violence when we are hurt, allow greed to override the basic sanctity of human life, justify behaviors that are blatantly sinful and wrong, give in to the whims of desire and passion, and live life as if we are the only ones that matter. The world needs the good news of the Ascension of Jesus Christ. Why are we so reluctant to preach and accept the truth? Christ is our destiny and our hope. It's that simple. Alleluia!

"May today there be peace within. May you trust God that you are exactly where you are meant to be. May you not forget the infinite possibilities that are born of faith. May you use those gifts that you have received, and pass on the love that has been given to you. May you be content knowing you are a child of God. Let this presence settle into your bones, and allow your soul the freedom to sing, dance, praise and love. It is there for each and every one of us." ~St. Teresa of Avila

This Day in History — May 27, 1937

The Golden Gate Bridge is a suspension bridge spanning the Golden Gate, the one-mile-wide strait connecting San Francisco Bay and the Pacific Ocean. The structure links the U.S. city of San Francisco, California — the northern tip of the San Francisco Peninsula — to Marin County. It also carries pedestrian and bicycle traffic, and is designated as part of U.S. Bicycle Route 95. Being declared one of the Wonders of the Modern World by the American Society of Civil Engineers, the bridge is one of the most internationally recognized symbols of San Francisco and California. It was initially designed by engineer Joseph Strauss in 1917.

At the time of its opening on May 27, 1937, it was both the longest and the tallest suspension bridge in the world, with a main span of 4,200 feet and a total height of 746 feet.
