Inspiration for the Week by Rev. Mark Suslenko

It all boils down to a matter of the heart, and actions do speak louder than words. We cannot hide from the truth. A problem with religion is that someone can make everything appear right when it is not. We can say all of the appropriate prayers, perform all of the proper rituals, claim that we adhere to orthodox doctrines, and still lead a distorted, empty, and sometimes pitiful life. Only actions springing from true and deep sacrifice demonstrate true integrity. Without sacrifice, even the noblest-looking actions can amount to nothing. It is no wonder that the widow who contributed from her poverty received great admiration from Jesus. While it may not always appear to be the case, God has special care and regard for those who depend upon him in times of trouble and want. Only the truly poor person can see this. Because of a lack of trust, the one who has much is afraid to take a risk and sees what they possess as their only security.

Mass Intention Policy Update

Due to our growing community and the limited number of Masses, we have updated our policy to the following:

- Masses will be booked no more than one (1) year in advance.
- No more than two (2) Masses at a time can be booked.

Thank you for understanding. We want all parishioners to have the opportunity to have a Mass Intention for their loved ones.

We welcome parishioners to add prayer intentions for family members free of charge in the bulletin for one (1) month. To do so, please contact the parish office at 860-633-9419 or contact@isidoreandmaria.org. We cannot publish the names of friends. Thank you for your understanding.

On December 10, 1979, a petite holy woman known as Mother Teresa of Calcutta spoke these words in her Nobel Peace Prize Acceptance Speech, "But I am sure in the families and many of our homes, maybe we are not hungry for a piece of bread, but maybe there is somebody there in the family who is unwanted, unloved, uncared, forgotten, there isn't love. Love begins at home. And love to be true has to hurt. I never forget a little child who taught me a very beautiful lesson. They heard in Calcutta, the children, that Mother Teresa had no sugar for her children, and this little one, a Hindu boy four years old, went home, and he told his parents: I will not eat sugar for three days; I will give my sugar to Mother Teresa. How much a little child can give. After three days they brought into our house, and there was this little one who could scarcely pronounce my name, he loved with great love, he loved until it hurt. And this is what I bring before you: to love one another until it hurts, but don't forget that there are many children, many children, many men and women who haven't got what you have. And remember to love them until it hurts."

Living authentically and walking with holiness always involves sacrifice. It has to hurt. Only actions springing from true and deep sacrifice demonstrate true integrity. Without sacrifice, even what is apparently a generous gesture can be nothing. It is no wonder that the widow who contributed from her poverty received great admiration from Jesus and the young child in our story above the interest of Mother Teresa. It is easy to make the houses of our lives look like they are in perfect order when, in fact, they are in shambles within. Religion can sometimes make this hypocritical masquerade easy to accomplish. We can find ourselves in all the right holy places, reciting all of the correct prayers, participating in community collections, and reciting the proper doctrines only to find ourselves empty, shallow, self-focused, and overly anxious about personal concerns.

The one who learns to discover their inner poverty, their spiritual poverty, is the only one who can truly place him or herself at the mercy of God. Only when we allow ourselves to be empty do we realize Who we need to fill us. This is the real meaning of trust. Many of us are afraid to take the plunge. We allow ourselves to detach from only so much, always keeping a watchful eye on protecting our securities. We understand poverty's value but do not want to become too poor. If we recognize this tension, reluctance to let go and struggle, we can continue humbly learning to love so deeply that it hurts. God understands and waits.

~ Rev. Mark Suslenko
